

Perth Wildcats v Melbourne United

Venue: RAC Arena

Date: 15 January

EVENT UPDATE:

Perth Wildcats fans will have to wait to see their team in action, following the NBL's release of its revised schedule for the opening round of the 2020/21 season.

The Wildcats will no longer play any round one games, and their previously scheduled games at RAC Arena – 15th and 17th January – will both be rescheduled. Round one games will now be exclusively played in Adelaide and Cairns, schedule available here.

Tickets secured by Perth Wildcats members to the opening two games of the season will remain valid. Updated information regarding the rescheduling of the home games will be announced as soon as it becomes available.

With star American Scotty Hopson lining-up alongside veteran Chris Goulding, Melbourne United are once again one of the teams to beat this season.

Stand together, stronger as one in support of the NBL's most successful organisation, your Perth Wildcats!

NBL MVP Bryce Cotton, Mitch Norton, Jesse Wagstaff and co are out to keep the NBL trophy where it belongs – here in Perth.
